

MONTE GREEN NAMES

WOOD & BLISS FOR STADIUM

E Haywood Bliss, Civil Engineer, and Attorney Roland I Wood, both of Wilmington, have been appointed by Monte Green, Cambridge real estate man, to be in charge of local affairs of the proposed Wilmington Stadium, to be located off Route 93, near Route 125.

Bliss, a former Selectman of Wilmington, is preparing engineering data for the stadium. He lives at 28 Glen Road.

Atty Wood, who lives on Frederick Drive, will be in charge of the legal and other business for the stadium.

THE CANDIDATES ARE IN THE HUSTINGS: Photographed Tuesday night, at the League of Women Voters Candidates Night are: (L to R) Wilson Belbin, Moderator Simon Cutter (hidden by speaker) Richard J Keane (speaking), Joseph A Paglia, Al Lanni, Mrs Harry Johnson and Mrs Barbara Hooper of the League, Fred Arsenault, Charles H Black (in rear), James Banda, Robert Leahy, James Miceli, Joseph Sottile and Felice Vitale. Missing from the picture is Harold McKelvey, who arrived later.

There were a total of 106 at the Candidates Night, which will be the first of three to be held in Wilmington this year.

Bliss was named last week, at the time that Green applied to the Wilmington authorities for his foundation construction permit, and Wood was named shortly afterwards, when it became apparent that there would have to be some minor changes in the by-laws to permit the construction.

The Board of Selectmen of Wilmington have informally agreed to call for a Special Town Meeting, to be held a few weeks after the annual Town Meeting, to consider the proposed changes.

Interest in the town over the proposed Stadium is running high. At the Candidates Night, held by the League of Women Voters, on Tuesday, the question of the stadium was paramount, in the latter part of the evening's discussion. All candidates for Selectmen declared themselves to be in favor of the stadium, if it could be shown to be in the best interest of the town.

Girl Scout Cookie Sale

It is Girl Scout Cookie time! During the period from February 18 to the 28th, Girl Scouts in Wilmington and Tewksbury will be taking orders for Girl Scout cookies.

Mrs. Edwin Wells, 7 West Street Wilmington and Mrs. Joseph Krugh 12 Bemis Circle, Tewksbury are the chairmen for this area.

The money raised by the cookie sale is used for two purposes. It enables the girls to raise money for their troop activities, and, on a larger scale, to develop and maintain camp sites for the fun and adventure of all Girl Scouts in the out of doors. Last year the profits were used to improve facilities at Camp Kiwanis, Camp Maude Eaton, Camp Runels and Camp Merrymeeting.

This year's goal is new equipment for all of the camps, including beds, mattresses, new dock section, tents and archery equipment.

If you are not called upon and wish to order cookies, you may contact either one of the neighborhood chairman.

Reading Light Chairman

All Customers Have Equal Rates

Winfred F Spurr, Chairman of the Reading Municipal Light Board, commenting on the report of the Wilmington Power Committee, to the combined Boards of Selectmen of Wilmington, North Reading and Lynnfield, has stated that the rates charged to the three communities are identical to those charges to customers in Reading.

There is a single exception, he said, that being the rate charged for street lighting, which is lower in Reading than in the other three communities.

This rate, Mr. Spurr explained, is fixed by a formula enacted by the legislature under which towns which own municipal light plants enjoy a lower rate.

There will be a general reduction in the rates charged by the Reading Light Department, Mr. Spurr stated. The target date for making the reduction effective, he said, is March 2.

The approximate amount of the reduction is expected to equal $200,000 for the customers in the four towns served by the Reading

Municipal Light Department.

The forthcoming rate reduction will result, Spurr said, from the combination of reduced plant operating expense and a reduction in the rate charged by Boston Edison to the Reading utility for bulk power.

The Reading Municipal Light Board has been negotiating with Boston Edison for some time, Spurr reported.

He said that it is his Board's

THE NEW URBAN RENEWAL PROJECT

Among the items to be discussed in the Annual Town Meeting on March 12th are three articles (33, 34 & 35) calling for an Urban Renewal project in South Wilmington, near the old tracks of the Woburn branch of the B&MRR.

Urban Renewal, as such, does not have an excellent history in Wilmington. There was a Federally sponsored project half a dozen years ago which fell flat on its face. There were half a dozen reasons for this, one of them being over-ambitious politicians, and another being an under-ambitious town manager.

The new project will not be Federal. It is being sponsored by the Wilmington Chamber of Commerce under laws of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

In other words this is not to be a plaything for the politicians. It is planned to be a business-like project, with a definite goal of more industry for Wilmington.

Where this project is planned, there were, 60 to 80 years ago, several real estate ventures, in which old farms were cut up into small house lots and sold by high pressure salesmen, who may have turned their talents at other times of the year to the selling of nostrums and perhaps Kickapoo Indian Tonics.

The 'lots' of land were 35 feet wide and 70 feet long. If a man bought one he was given another free, perhaps as an inducement to buy more. There was a copyrighted slogan - 'If you are on earth - own a slice of it!'

Many people purchased sight unseen. There was a lot of speculative trading. Eventually the small boom came to an end, and the owners, in many instances, didn't bother to pay the taxes on land in which they were not interested.

So the town began taking over the land, for non payment of taxes, and then sold off the lots to the highest bidder, in town held auctions.

It was a story that was repeated and repeated. Some lots of land were sold several times, some half a dozen, to anyone who had a five dollar bill and hoped to make a killing in the real estate market.

National Polychemicals

Where National Polychemicals stands today, on Eames Street, was just such a place. It was known as Section B, of the Woburn City & Land Development Co.

Back in 1952 there were 36 acres of small house lots there, 35 x 70, with thousands of possible claimants among the heirs and devisees of the former owners. For, even though the town might take land for taxes, there can still be a title to the property by the former owner, and much legal work is necessary before anyone can get a 'clear' title.

National Polychemicals wanted to locate in Wilmington, and the Town Manager of that time put the Principal Assessor to the task of 'clearing the titles' in Section B.

Frank Walters, the Principal Assessor, was also an attorney. He started the herculean task of hunting down all the heirs to all the former owners of the land - hundreds, if not thousands of heirs.

Some of them were in California, and didn't know that they had a vague shadowy title to a little bit of land in faraway Wilmington. Some of them, it turned out, were in Greece.

Walters found all of them. He was known to have sat on doorsteps at 5 o'clock in the morning, to get signatures of heirs, as they left for work. The job took him two or three years - but it was worthwhile for the town, for when the title was clear National Polychemicals moved in, and has been growing with the town ever since - and helping to share the town's tax burdens.

Section D

Impressed with this, the town sought in 1957 to clear the titles in the adjoining piece of land, Section D, for another company called here simply Company X.

Instead of using the town's assessor, the then Town Manager and Selectmen made an agreement whereby the company would provide the attorney. The town signed over its claims to the land.

Company X worked for several years, and then gave up the task as a bad job, and turned the land back to the town.

Wilmington had gained a little bit, in that some of the claimants were out of the way - but the land was still lying fallow and not producing any tax revenue, and that is the way it is today - 30 or 40 acres of Section D.

The land is good. Industry would like to locate there. But industry will not locate where there is no clear title to the land.

That's what the Chamber of Commerce wants to do - clear up those clouded titles and get a good tax producing industry located.

That is the reason for those three articles. Under new legislation recently passed by the legislature, it is possible to clear those titles under a State Urban Renewal program.

The Chamber of Commerce is hoping that the townspeople will go along, and vote favorably for Articles 33, 34 & 35 in the town meeting.

If this is done there ought to be some big changes in the area, in a couple of years - and perhaps an industry as big as National Polychemicals, or perhaps several smaller ones.

All of which will be to the advantage of the home owners of Wilmington - for it will help to lower taxes.

THE LEGISLATURE SHOULD NOT
OVERRIDE LOCAL ZONING LAWS

The publisher of this paper was scheduled, last night as this paper was going to press, to discuss on WGBH-TV with some other newspapermen some of the problems besetting the people of Massachusetts.

One of the problems dates from an act of the legislature - Chapter 492 of the Acts of 1958, which over-rides local zoning laws. It is fast becoming an issue in towns in the suburban areas of this state.

Simply stated the act provides that owners of house lots of 5000 square feet, in land that is zoned for residences, may build, even though the local law calls for larger sized lots. The legislature meant well, but the contrary is proving to be the case.

Wilmington is an example. In this town there are three types of residential zoning, one of 10,000 square feet, one of 22,500 square feet, and the third of 60,000 square feet.

The smaller sized lots are in areas where there were homes many years ago, before the present by-laws went into effect. The larger lots are the result of the experiences in those smaller lots.

In the 10,000 foot areas of Wilmington there are sanitation problems. Homes built on small lots of land result, in a period of years, in the soil becoming saturated, and conditions becoming unhealthy.

In the Silver Lake area of Wilmington there are quite a few problems of this nature. There are problems in other parts of town too. There are homes in which nearly every square foot of available land has been dug, and re-dug, in an effort to obtain proper disposal of sewage.

The Board of Health is aware of this, and so are other officials. They can only act with compassion,

Letters

February 14, 1966

Dear Larz:

May I, through the columns of the Town Crier, express my sincere appreciation of the assistance of two members of the Wilmington Fire Department, yesterday?

My mother, Mrs Gozzola of Nichols Street, was taken ill and had to be taken to the Mass. General. Thanks to the Fire Department every thing was handled very efficiently.

Yours sincerely
Joseph A Paglia

11 February 1966

Dear Larz:

In light of the Reverend Thomas's recent inquiry (the second on the same subject, I believe) regarding Mr. Miceli's removal from the Planning Board, if my memory serves me correctly, you ran a report some time ago in our town paper stating that the Planning Board had on motion of Mr Banda seconded by Mr Gillis, voted to accept Mr. Miceli's resignation which he insisted he had not offered.

Another report in our paper shortly after that included a letter from the town manager and quoted the T.M. as reducing the Planning Board from 7 to 5 members in the best interest of the community, and Mr. Miceli was being removed.

I assume that the town manager and the planning board knew what they were doing when they removed Mr Miceli.

Yours truly,
James R. Sullivan

OLiver 8-3581*Selectmen's Meeting

Attorney Roland Wood and Consulting Engineer E. Hayward Bliss of Wilmington appeared before the Board of Selectmen on Monday night to represent the interests of the New North of Boston Realty Corporation, which proposes to build a stadium off Route 93 in Wilmington.

Wood and Bliss pleaded with the Board to keep an 'open mind' while they marshalled the facts to present a fair case for building the stadium in Wilmington. Wood said that the construction of the stadium would require changes in the Zoning By-Law. Such changes would require the approval of the town in an open town meeting.

Wood expressed his gratitude to Town Manager Richard Henneberger and the members of the Board of Selectmen and the Planning Board for their advice and assistance in getting the facts of the situation.

On the basis of the advice of these town officials, Wood said he had decided that rushing the issue would frighten the people. Efforts to attempt changes in the Zoning By-Law on the warrant for the annual Town Meeting might give people the impression that someone was trying to 'pull a fast deal'. Consequently, Wood told the Selectmen, he and his clients had decided to request a special town meeting to consider the case for the stadium. 'If this program is feasible, and is good for the town,' Wood said, 'we will have to present a case showing that it will benefit the town.'

Wood asked the Selectmen if they would permit him to come back to file a couple of articles within the next few weeks. Selectman Bender asked if, when they came back, they would have a basic plan on which the Board could pass judgement. Hayward Bliss answered, 'Definitely!'

Two stipulations of the Zoning By-Law, one restricting the height of a building in an industrial zone to 30 feet and another restricting amusements in the town, require change in order to construct the stadium. Bliss proposed that the changes would be worded so as to affect only stadiums. 'It's not likely that anyone else would care to build another stadium in the town,' Bliss added. 'Then it wouldn't break the back of the Zoning By-Law,' Niles commented.

Bliss told the Board that his job was to solve the sewerage and drainage problems. At this, Bender commented that the introduction of Wood and Bliss into the picture was the first positive step in the situation.

Wood commented that there was a great deal of misunderstanding among outsiders concerning the situation, which he and Bliss hoped to clear up.

Bliss praised the town officials for 'maintaining control of the situation.' He added that he was proud to live in a town such as Wilmington where the officials showed such concern for the welfare of its citizens.

Selectman Black asked Wood when he wanted the special town meeting. Wood replied that he was hoping to have it two weeks after the annual town meeting. The financial backing of the proposed stadium demanded quick action, he said.

Niles told Wood that the time factor was entirely up to him, since the Board could not act until all the facts were before them. Wood and Bliss thanked the Board and left with the understanding that they would return in a few weeks to present the facts to the Board.

Communications and Petitions
The Selectmen received a letter from the Planning Board re-stating their position on apartment house zoning, a communique from the Alcoholic Beverages Control indicating that all liquor stores would be closed in observance of Washington's birthday, and a letter from Congressman Bradford Morse on an amendment to the Federal Water Pollution Control Act which he has filed with the House of Representatives.

TM's Report

Town Manager Richard Henneberger asked for a policy decision by the Board on junk car disposal in Wilmington. The Selectmen indicated that they would consider an article on junk car disposal for the special town meeting.

Henneberger also asked the Board to acknowledge the receipt of the January Departmental Reports, the first of their kind. The Board members commended Henneberger on the institution of this practice. Niles said that he could see that more money for town recreation was necessary from glancing at the first report.

Bender asked the TM to do something about the flooding problem on Grant Street, where a puddle 80 feet in circumference and 1 to 2 feet deep has formed. He also requested a follow-up on the proposal for the demolition of dangerous and hazardous structures in the town. It was agreed that Acting Town Counsel Alan Altman should look into the legal aspects of the problem.

The Board rescheduled their February 28th meeting to Tuesday, March 1st, in order to avoid a conflict with the annual Chamber of Commerce Dinner.

The public portion of the meeting ended at 9:05 pm, when the Selectmen went into a brief executive session with the TM.

LWV*The Candidates Speak

Eleven candidates for public office in Wilmington stood up, Tuesday night, in the High School cafeteria, to tell an audience of about 100 persons why they were qualified for the office they sought.

The candidates varied in their methods of delivery, from a surprisingly low voiced Harold McKelvey to Felice Vitale, who practically shouted at the audience.

Each candidate had five minutes to state his qualifications and views on specific problems of the town, and then later a chance at rebuttals, and to answer questions.

Among the issues discussed were the proposed new stadium, urban renewal, and the town manager form of government.

All the candidates for Selectman were in favor of the stadium if the attendant problems could be ironed out. The general view was that the tax base needed to be broadened.

WILSON BELBIN: Candidate for the Wilmington Housing Authority, cited 17 years residence in Wilmington, and much past experience in various official positions in the carpenter's union as his qualifications for office. He said he would try to act justly with the tenants.

In answer to a question by Mr Vitale he declared that he would practice no racial or other discrimination in the execution of the office. The policy had been set in Washington, he said, and he intended to go along with the policy.

SIMON CUTTER, uncontested candidate for Moderator gave a homey speech, declaring that it was difficult to talk about himself, and then proceeded to do so without any apparent difficulty. He cited his educational background, honor graduate of Boston University, B.U. Law School, Law Review editor, and then recounted his long experience as an active member of many civic organizations, Lions, Boosters, etc., his experience as an Asst. District Attorney, in the Housing Authority, and legal aide work in Roxbury.

The most important qualification for moderator is his philosophy of life, Cutter said, and said that he had always fought for the rights of the people. He regarded it his basic duty to guarantee the rights of the people to voice their views in town meeting.

RICHARD KEANE, Incumbent member of the School Committee told the audience that he had three children in the Wilmington Schools and that he works as a sales engineer for Raffi & Swanson. He has been active in civic affairs of the town since he moved to Wilmington.

Keane cited finances as the main problem in the improvement of the schools, and said he hoped to continue to represent the people of Wilmington in attempting to solve these problems.

JOSEPH PAGLIA, who arrived late, was visibly upset after having been called to his mother's sickbed. He spoke of his eleven years residence in Wilmington, and of thirty years working with young people. His educational background includes two years at Northeastern University. Paglia, a candidate for the school committee, was obviously shaken, and became unable to complete his speech. The sympathies of the audience were with him, and he received a great round of applause.

AL LANNI, Sticker candidate for school committee, told of his educational background, a degree in history from Boston University, a Master of Arts in Education from the State College in Boston.

Lanni said that his lifetime work has been education, as a classroom teacher, an administrative assistant, and currently as supervisor in history for the State Department of Education. He hoped, if elected, to serve the schools of Wilmington in helping to develop the curriculum and programs in the schools.

He was asked by Vitale why he had not taken out nomination papers and had run as a sticker candidate. Lanni said he had decided to run after discovering that there was no contest for the office. By running as a sticker candidate he felt that at least the voters would be having a choice of candidates.

CHARLES BLACK was the first of the Selectmen candidates to speak. The incumbent Selectman told of forty years of service to the opinion that the rate should be reduced even lower than Boston Edison has agreed to do and efforts in that direction are continuing.

Mr Spurr said his board met in December with the five members of the Wilmington Power Study Committee, at which time the effort was made to explain that there is no rate structure which works to the advantage of Reading customers.

The rates charged by the Reading utility, he said, are regulated by the state Department of Public Utilities, and a petition to that agency would appear to be the only meaningful action open to the Selectmen of Lynnfield, North Reading and Wilmington in their proposed effort to negotiate lower power rates.

The advantage Reading enjoys over the three other communities (Wilmington, North Reading and a part of Lynnfield) served is participation in the profits derived from its ownership of the utility system. Under a formula, which includes both profit and plant value, the Reading Municipal Light Department each year makes a payment to the Town of Reading treasury in lieu of taxes. The payment in 1965 was $183,563. Payments since 1934 have totaled $2,293,518.

and do their best to alleviate the problems without driving the people from their homes.

It has been proposed, for instance, to extend the town's sewers to the Silver Lake area. Such a move would be helpful, but it would cost over a million dollars, money that is needed to build schools. The other home owners, who do not have the problem would have to share the cost.

This was the crux of a problem which faced one committee this past winter. There could be Federal aid, but not enough. The tax burden would become too heavy for the residents of the Silver Lake area, and a proposal would not have got through town meeting.

This was the type of problem which led to the adoption of larger lots, when Wilmington rezoned in 1955. Large areas of this town, and other towns in Massachusetts as well, were denuded of soil when the glaciers passed over, many years ago.

Underlying the grass and trees are a few inches of soil, and then clay or rock, ill adapted to good sewerage disposal.

By making house lots 22,500 square feet in large parts of Wilmington, and 7% of the town being zoned for 60,000 square feet, Wilmington sought to provide the type of town where the people of Boston and other communities would not only be welcome, but would have a guarantee that their homes would be safeguarded against future zoning changes.

Good homes, good schools, good government, healthful living conditions - this is what the town sought, in the new zoning law, passed in 1955. The state Department of Commerce was kind enough to call this by-law 'The Model Zoning By-Law'.

Then the 1958 statute was passed by the legislature. Owners of property which had been properly safeguarded began to find homes on 50 foot wide lots next to them, homes which were really too large for the size of the land involved.

In the past three years there have been 54 building permits issued for house lots which qualify only under the 1958 law. Over a dozen builders have been involved - some of them perfectly willing to make a fast dollar and then move on, leaving the problems they have caused for posterity to solve.

Wilmington fortunately has a full time sanitarian and a full time building inspector, but even then there are questions in the minds of serious people as to whether or not these homes will be adequate 15 or 20 years from now - or will the soil be saturated with sewage with which the homeowner will be unable to contend?

In one instance the sanitarian refused a permit for a sewage disposal plan, and the Board of Health members found their homes attached, and they had to appear in court to defend the sanitarian's action. Fortunately these people were sustained in court, - but what happens in other towns, where there is no sanitarian, not even a part time man, nor a devoted Board of Health?

Another problem is that of the same group pretending that they are really three or four firms. They build homes, next to each other, on 5000 foot lots, which are under 'separate' ownership. One place in town has four such homes being built, right next to each other. What has happened is that the zoning has been changed, without the town's consent, to 5000 foot lots.

Wilmington has to face up to these problems. Other towns, not as well equipped as Wilmington, are probably in worse condition. People who are investing in homes in those towns do not realize that theirs is not an investment - it is merely a gamble.

If the legislature had not passed that law in 1958 there would be no such problem. The legislature should leave zoning problems to the towns and cities, - to the officials who really know what the problems are.

GOLD KEY WINNER Pamela Godzyk, daughter of Mr and Mrs Paul Godzyk of Parker Street. She was awarded the Gold Key and a Certificate of Merit from the Boston Globe, as a Scholastic Arts Award.

Pamela's work has been selected for exhibit in the State of Massachusetts Regional Exhibition, preliminary to the selection of Finalists for the National High School Art Exhibition.

ROSETTA CICCUI is this year's Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow, for Wilmington High School. She scored highest, in a written knowledge and attitude examination taken on December 7th and is now eligible for state and national scholarship awards, ranging from $500 to $5,000.

Test papers from all the school winners in Massachusetts are now being judged, and from them the State Homemaker of Tomorrow will be named. The winner will receive a scholarship of $1500 from General Mills, Inc., sponsor of the annual Betty Crocker search. Rosetta is the daughter of Mrs Rosetta Cicciu of Magazine Street.

CANDIDATES SPEAK (From page four)

town in varying capacities. His educational background includes a degree from Northeastern University, and a law degree, although he has never practiced as an attorney.

Black, now retired, related his executive experience with the Stone & Webster Engineering Corporation. The problems presently besetting the town, he said, are an increasing budget, and the needs for schools and sewer mains. He told the voters that he hoped to continue in his capacity as a Selectman to aid the town in solving these problems.

FRED ARSENAULT, candidate for Selectman, said that he had been a resident for twelve years, is a World War II veteran, works as an industrial safety engineer, and is currently serving on the Finance Committee.

He cited rising costs and the need for outside funds as the basic problems of the town. The individual taxpayer, he said, cannot continue to absorb the rising costs of the town.

If this means industry, he said, then that is what you should have. JAMES BANDA, seven and one half years a resident of Wilmington, felt that his training as a lawyer and his six years of service on the Planning Board had fully equipped him to deal with the problems of the town as a Selectman.

Banda said that Wilmington is growing fast, and he felt that the stadium would be a wonderful thing for the town. It would, he said, bring enough tax money into the town to reduce the individual taxpayer's share of the load by one third.

ROBERT F LEAHY, has been a resident of the town for four and one half years, holds a degree in Civil Engineering, and is employed locally as an electronics engineer for Avco.

His experience as Chairman of the Building ByLaw Committee and member of the Power Study Committee have acquainted him with the workings and problems of the town.

Being the only candidate for Selectman with an engineering background he felt he had something special to offer to the town. Lack of communication between the Selectmen and the taxpayer is a problem that he feels needs attention. He proposed to re-institute a bi-monthly newsletter from the Selectmen to the voters of the town, and to appoint members of the board of Selectmen to act as observers on every other board in town. He added that there was a growing resentment among the voters concerning the use of executive session, and proposed that after each session a statement on the subject discussed be made to the public.

HAROLD McKELVEY, said his educational background was Roxbury Latin, and a graduate of LaSalle Law School. He said that his forced abandonment of a career as an entertainer as the result of a war injury had led him into his long time interest in civic affairs. McKelvey said he was also a graduate of Bentley Accounting School, four times commander of the DAV, a postal inspector under Governor James Michael Curley, and Chief Inspector under Governor Saltonstall. He had served, he said, as Chief of Staff to the National Commander of the DAV.

McKelvey compared the town to a garden, which must be nourished, but not permitted to run wild. He added that as one who has proven himself eminently capable of handling his own financial affairs, he felt himself qualified to handle the financial affairs of the town.

JAMES MICELI told of his active interest in civic affairs since moving to Wilmington eight years ago. His qualifications included a B.S. in Business Administration from Northeastern University, a past presidency of the Wilmington Jaycees, service on the Planning Board, and Vice Chairman of the Mass Region 5A, Federation of Planning Boards, a position which he still holds.

Miceli said that the town needs a program for industrial expansion, and emphasized his interest in long-range planning. He said he would like to see a badly needed traffic flow study and a population projection. It was his original motion on the planning board that a planning consultant was brought into town.

Miceli also expressed concern over the lack of recreational facilities in the town, and said he would work hard for the construction of a youth center. He also favored bringing in desirable industry to broaden the tax base in the town, and commented on the favorable publicity the town has received in the form of a brochure put out by the backers of the proposed stadium for the town. He suggested that the town pick it up for reproduction, to attract industry to the community.

JOSEPH SOTTILE, 22 years a resident, with a degree from Franklin Technical Institute, and Regional Sales Manager for Pallard, told the audience that the central issue of the campaign was the election of an individual who could provide clear and decisive leadership. He advocated the establishment of an Industrial Development Commission to attract and provide for the bringing of new industry to the town.

FELICE VITALE, obviously angered, launched into an attack on the present board of Selectmen. In an apparent reference to himself he objected to interference by the present board with the 'rights' of citizens to speak out at Selectmen's meetings. He said that he desires to be a 'servant of the people' and expressed hopes that the voters would permit him to do so by electing him to office.

During the period allowed for restatement of views Arsenault introduced a discussion of the Town Manager system with a statement to the effect that something was wrong with a town that had gone through so many town managers as Wilmington has, in a relatively short period of time.

He said that the TM should have more freedom and ability to act, and recommended a freer rein.

Leahy said that he felt there was an adequate amount of power under the present system, and said the town should 'increase the salary and look for a mature man'. When asked if this indicated that he believed that the present TM was not qualified he retorted 'Certainly not'.

Questions from the audience on urban renewal revealed that the candidates, with the exception of Banda, were in favor of the type of industrial urban renewal proposed on the warrant for the annual town meeting.

Moderator for the discussion was League of Women Voters President Mrs William Hooper.

(Ever since the fire in the old Pearson Tavern - home of John Elia - last fall, the Town Crier has been searching records for the date that the building was built. There are clues that point to the date 1737 or 1738, but there is no conclusive proof that has yet been found.

A lot of work has gone into the construction of a genealogy of the family, as a part of the story to be written sometime, and also to determine the relationship of the murderer Daniel H Pearson to the rest of the Pearsons in Wilmington. This record, property of Mrs Foster Balsar is printed for such value as it may have to Town Crier readers, and to provide a record for those who may wish a copy.

The record compiled here does not relate the whole story of the Pearson family - nothing is said for instance, of the deaths by drowning of two of the sisters in the family, about 100 years ago - interesting stories that the Town Crier hopes to publish when it has completed its compilation of the Story of the Pearson family.

This record, printed here, is not quite complete, as it appears in the family record of Mrs Balsar. Some of the very latest information concerning the present generations has been eliminated. Ed)

-MRS CLARA E NICHOLS-
On her Grandfather's Aaron Pearson, side, - of - Wilmington Mass.

--1615 to 1923--

Compiled from Records by J. H. Pearson, 1922.

Memorandum: It appears of record there were two John Pearsons came from England to America.

One John was born in Yorkshire, England in 1615, and came to this (country) in 1637, settling in Lynn, Massachusetts first and afterward moving to Reading.

This John was the progenitor of the with-in family.

The second John came from Essex, England, to this county in 1643 and settled in Rowley, Massachusetts.

The within record has nothing to do with his posterity. JHP

FIRST GENERATION

Pearson, John. Born in Yorkshire, England. Came to Lynn 1637. Died Alro; 7th 1679. aged 64. His will of April 1679 mentions wife Madeline.

Had five children, Mary, Bertha, Sarah, JOHN and James.

Mary, b 6-20-1643 in Lynn, M. 12-3-1663 Thos Burnap.

Bertha, b 9-15-1645 in Lynn, M. Carter.

Sarah, b 1-20-1647 in Lynn, M. 11-27-1668 John Townsend.

JOHN (see following)

James b 9-2-1652 in Reading, M. Hepsibah

James had 8 children, as follows: Hebsebah, b 4-3-1699, James b 11-14-1701; Jonathan, b 3-13-1704-5; Jeremiah, b 9-19-1707 d. 9-2-1708; John, b 3-10-1709-10; Tabatha, b 3-15-1712; Jeremiah b 12-20-1715; Benjamin b 10-3-1720.

SECOND GENERATION

John Pearson, son of John Pearson & Madeline, born in Reading June 22nd 1650. Died June 21st 1728, aged 78.

Married 1st in Reading, Tabitha daughter of Thomas Kendall. She died Oct 17, 1711.

Had 13 children: James, Tabitha, John, Rebeckah, KENDALL, Susanna, Mary, Thomas, Ebenezer, Sarah, Abigail, Abigail 2nd, Elizabeth.

Married 2nd wife Martha. No children by this marriage. The first 5 of above children born in Reading, others in Lynn.

John Pearson, above, was in Lynn, Deacon, Captain, and in 1703 representative.

THIRD GENERATION

Kendall Pearson, son of John &

Tabitha, Born in Reading May 3, 1688. Died Feb 2nd, 1767, age 79. Married 1st Lydia Boardman Mar 30th 1709, who died July 10, 1737 aged 51 yrs 2 mos.

Had 8 children by Lydia (1st wife); Thomas, Lydia, Kendel, Sarah, Kendal, Sarah, William, NATHAN.

Married 2nd wife Lidia Jaques, (a widow) Jan 30th 1738 who died May 19th 1770 aged 72 years 10 da. (Find no record of children by this wife except from following Wills)

Kendall (3rd generation) Will, Probated in Middlesex County Court, East Cambridge, as #17093 (Lib 47 page 392-393) in 1767 mentions wife Lidia, son Thomas, son Kendel, son Nathan, son John, children of daughter Lydia, daughter Sarah wife of Jonathan Smith, daughter Mary wife of Stephen Wesson, and son-in-law Samuel Jaques.

Lydia's will probated in same court as #17094 (vol 52, page 526) in May 9th 1771, mentions John Jaques of Newbury and Samuel Jaques of Wilmington as 'sole heirs to our late mother Lidia Pearson (formerly Jaques) of Wilmington'

From these wills, the sons, Thomas, Nathan and Kendol, and daughters Lydia and Sarah were the same as recorded as children by 1st wife. That daughter Mary Pearson who married (of record) Stephen Wesson, Mar 17, 1748 was his child by 1st wife, unless she was very young when she married Wesson, and that the John (he mentions as son) with Samuel Jaques (he mentions as son-in-law) were really his stepsons as born out by Will #17094 of his 2nd wife, wherein their names are given in full as Jaques, the 2nd wife's name by her former marriage.

Memo: Mary's father Kendall married Lidia Jaques Jan 30, 1738. Mary married Wesson Mar. 17, 1748, or 10 years after Lidia Jaques married her father, so she must have been his child by first marriage to have been old enough to marry Wesson date given.

FOURTH GENERATION

Nathan Pearson, son of Kendall & Lydia, married Mary Wilson of Reading Jan 16th 1746 in Wilmington. Had by this marriage 6 children.

1st Moses, Thomas, 2nd Moses, Mary, William, Hephzibah.

Hephzibah was born May 4, 1761 and died Aug 8th 1875 (sic) She was the last (6th) child of above marriage. Her mother, Mary, must have died after this child's birth for the records show that her father, Nathan, married again, to Rebecca Tay of Woburn, Oct 21, 1766 and had 2 other children, AARON and Nathan

Memo: The will of Nathan (of the fourth generation), Number 17095 of the Probate Records in East Cambridge Court mentions the name of heirs as follows: Will dated Aug. 8th 1787. John Herndon, Exectr. Wife, Rebecca. Son, Nathan, Thomas (born 1752) 2nd Moses (born 1754) 1st married Hephzibah Jones. 2nd married Lois Holt; William (born 1759) AARON (born Aug 22d 1767), daughter Mary, wife of Jacob Flinn (born 1756)

Memo: I can find no record of the birth or death dates of Nathan (fourth generation). He was a son of Kendall as is shown by his (Kendall) will.

Neither can I find any record of death of Nathan (fourth generation) wife Mary Wilson. His will shows it was a second wife Rebecca who survived him.

FIFTH GENERATION

Aaron Pearson, son of Nathan & Rebecca, born Aug 22, 1767, died July 2, 1821, aged 53.

Married Mehitable, daughter of John Howard of Reading, who died Sept 14, 1844, aged 70.

(second note) 45 Gardner St Allston Mass Dec 29, 1922

My Dear Mrs Nichols.

Herewith am sending you the ancestry of your family in the Pearson side; which I thought might interest you. I think I spent, at least 3 months in getting copies of all the records of our family from the first Pearson arrival in American in 1637 up to practically the present or your generation. You will note (Page 15) I could not finish out your immediate family and left it to you, or Hilda, to do after which I would be pleased to have a lead pencil copy of what you add so I could bring my copy to now.

If you find any errors in this please let me know. I found some bad ones in the vital records of Rowley (a copy of which I think you have in book form) especially the one under Births, which says: Aaron, son of Aaron and MARY born 5-3-1796, which should have been son of Aaron and Mehitable, for he was the brother of John Howard Pearson who married Hannah Eddy Whitman and Brother of Mary Pearson who married Ruel Carter. The Rowley record has no mention of either John Howard Pearson or Mary Pearson's births though they were both born in Wilmington and should have been in Rowley vital records as well as that of Aaron Pearson, their brother.

I went through every book of records I could find in the Boston

Library, Historical Society, and New England Historical Society, also through the Middlesex records of Wills and deeds and it was 'some job' to get our records clear from the other Pearson's who came over in 1647 and settled in Lynn - whose family records I also have.

Hope your family are all well and have had a enjoyable Christmas tide and will have many healthful Happy years as well as the one of 1923.

Hope to see you all when the weather gets fine next spring or summer.

J. H. Pearson.
